SPRINGFIELD, ILLINOIS
INTRODUCTORY

It is with pleasure we place before the citizens of Springfield, Volume 3, of our directory of the Capital City of Illinois, and in doing so, we feel a certain degree of pardonable pride to which we believe we are entitled, as we claim this to be the best directory ever issued for this city. The information contained herein will be found as complete and correct as it is possible to make a directory, and we ask our patrons to bear with the few errors which may be found. No pains or expense have been spared to produce a directory second to none and we feel safe in saying that we believe our efforts in this regard will be duly appreciated.

The growth of the city is phenomenal as the following figures will show: The directory contains 25,194 names. Deducting 15 per cent for firm names and removals, leaves 21,415 names, which, multiplied by 2 1/2, the smallest number used by any directory company, shows the population to be at this time 53,537, an increase over 1900 of 3,867.

Again thanking those of the business men who have kindly bestowed their patronage upon us, as well as those who have aided us in any way in the production of this work, we beg to remain,

Respectfully,
R. L. POLK & CO.

JUNE 5, 1902.
